Dear Parishioners and Visitors,

For a change of pace on these Sundays until Labor Day, I'm offering examples of people from the 20th century whose lives give us a chance to appreciate the different ways that faith can be lived and shared. ~Fr. Jim

Monsignor Hugh O'Flaherty (1898-1963)

In 1922, Hugh O'Flaherty, a young Irish seminarian, was assigned to pursue studies in Rome. Following his ordination in 1925, he stayed on to work for the Holy See, accepting diplomatic postings in Egypt, Haiti, Santo Domingo, and Czechoslovakia.

While serving at the Vatican after the German occupation of Rome, O'Flaherty organized an ambitious network to rescue and shelter fugitives from the Nazis—both Jews and Allied prisoners of war, many of whom had escaped following the collapse of Mussolini's regime. Operating under the noses of the Gestapo, O'Flaherty and the priests, nuns, and laypeople who assisted him, set up safe havens throughout Rome, some of them in churches, monasteries, and private homes. Operating without official approval from his superiors, O'Flaherty showed such ingenuity in his clandestine activities that he became known as "the Scarlet Pimpernel of the Vatican."

Though the Gestapo learned of his exploits, they were powerless to stop him as long as he remained on Vatican territory. The head of the Gestapo, Col. Kappler, had a white line painted at the opening of St. Peter's Square, warning O'Flaherty that he would be killed if he crossed beyond it. It is estimated that over 4,000 Allied prisoners of war and an untold number of Jews were rescued in this way.

After the war O'Flaherty received many honors. For many years he regularly visited Col. Kappler in prison and eventually received him into the Church. After suffering a stroke in 1960, O'Flaherty returned to Ireland, where he died on October 30, 1963.

"God has no country." —Monsignor Hugh O'Flaherty

Statue of Mary Update

The repair and painting to our Statue of Mary has been completed. The response to repair the vandalism of our statue of the Blessed Mother has been overwhelming and very generous. Thank you to all who were able to take part in the special collection.

Because there is some additional money, the flower-bed that is in the shrine can also be refurbished. Look in future months for this part to be completed.

Becoming a Catholic Christian~ RCIA

Do you know a friend or family member who has expressed a desire to learn more about the Catholic faith? Is there someone who has mentioned to you that they are thinking about becoming a Catholic and does not know how to proceed? Are you someone who is reading this yourself and would like to learn more about the Catholic faith? If the answer to any of these questions is "Yes," then you are invited to continue your exploration with the members of our RCIA team. RCIA stands for Rite of Christian Initiation for Adults.

The first stage is called "Inquiry," a time to ask questions and receive answers without any pressure to make a decision. The goal is to help adults move toward a commitment to the Lord and full participation in the Catholic community at their pace. It is meant specifically for adults who are seeking Baptism, or those who have been baptized but have not received Confirmation or Eucharist. For more information, please call the Parish Center (631-732-3131 x 133).

Building a Safer Church ~Did you know?

The Dallas Charter for the Protection of Children/Young People (The Charter) was issued by the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) in 2003. Copies of The Dallas Charter and the Diocesan Child Protection Policy are available in your rectory. The Charter mandates that specific practices be implemented in all dioceses in the United States to assist victims of clergy abuse, provide best practices for safe environment in each parish, and conduct annual independent audits to monitor compliance.

The Diocese of Rockville Centre has in place robust standards to ensure compliance with The Dallas Charter for the Protection of Children/Young People. These standards include:

- Mandatory Safe Environment Training: all clergy, employees and volunteers are required to attend the VIRTUS class: Protecting God's Children. VIRTUS classes are offered in English, Spanish, Polish, Korean and Creole. Monthly online training is provided through VIRTUS and required of all those who have ongoing consistent contact with children.
- Background Screening of all clergy, employees and volunteers. The request for an individual to be screened is initiated on the parish level and is conducted by ADP. Rescreening occurs if an individual remains active as employee or volunteer at five-year intervals.
- Codes of Conduct for all clergy, employees, volunteers and youth, with the understanding of what is and is not acceptable when interacting with children and young adults.
- Rigorous psychological screening of all men discerning vocations to the priesthood.

STEPS TO TAKE AFTER DISCLOSURE OF ABUSE

Most certainly, it is every parent's fear: What do I do if my child discloses abuse?

Think of the many times you have soothed your child who is crying or upset. You comfort and reassure your child, you bind up their wounds and in effect, you are offering your child a safe space to bring the pain. Emotionally, you stand with your child, contain their fear and pain. Your child is able to move ahead knowing that you, the adult, are holding the discomfort with them. This is true when a child discloses abuse.

1-STAY CALM – now is not the moment to panic! Take a deep breath and allow yourself to be in an emotional state of 'open acceptance.' Now is not the time to blame or criticize the child or the abuser.

2-Tell the child you want to HEAR WHATEVER THEY WANT TO SHARE. Saying, "Can you tell me what happened?" communicates that you are available to listen and believe what the child is telling you. If your child is struggling, suggest they draw a picture of what happened.

3-REASSURE your child that talking about the abuse is the right thing to do. Reinforce that the abuse was not your child's fault and you will keep your child safe from harm.

4-Let your words and actions SHOW LOVE AND UNDERSTANDING to your child. A hug and soothing words of reassurance are so important – use words your child understands like:

"I've got this, and we will figure it out." "I love you and will do everything I can to keep

5-FOLLOW YOUR CHILD'S LEAD – they will communicate verbally and non-verbally what they need from you.

6-The next step is to NOTIFY LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT – immediately. Get the professionals involved so your focus can be in supporting your child

Several Projects Continue Forward

Last Tuesday, the concrete for the front entrance supports was poured. The weather was perfect and there were no problems. The rest of the week entailed taking down the supports and doing other work for the next stages.

Five days earlier, about eight companies came for the walk through for the work needed on our Auditorium restrooms and kitchen. Bids are due this Wednesday. We will review the bids and select one.

Finally, PSEG came and installed the gas line from College Road to our Parish Center. Thus, the work for replacing the old oil furnace with a new gas one can take place in the near future.

Special Announcement: During this reconstruction time, work is planned for the rear two side pews on both sides. They will be set further apart so that those who come to Mass with walkers can enter and exit more easily and have Holy Communion brought to them in a more dignified way. In addition, a part of each rear pew will be removed so that a wheel chair can be placed next to the pew and out of the aisle.
